

Custom E-learning Solutions

OUR QUALIFICATIONS, EXPERIENCE, ADAPTABILITY AND COMMITMENT TO CUSTOMER SERVICE ARE SECOND TO NONE!

Service description:

- Safety Links can work with you to develop the most cost effective and company specific e-training programs available today.
- You can count on us to develop the most user friendly course material and then coordinate the development, implementation, integration, and management.

What you will get:

- When the project is completed you will receive a customized e-learning portal. This portal can be used to provide newly hired employees and contractors the necessary training before they start employment, or can be used to re-train existing employees.
- In addition you will receive a customized administrator portal that will allow you to:
 - Upload unlimited training sessions, and quizzes in the future.
 - Assign various topics to only those who need it. (For example all employees, certain job categories, certain various branches, or even individual employees).
 - View numerous reports on the performance of a single employee, department or the company as a whole.

How the process works:

Step 1- Needs Assessment:

- We will work with you to identify training needs. In addition to meeting any regulatory requirements (OSHA, DOT, etc), Safety Links will also be able to incorporate any specific materials and policies required by your organization. This can include company policies and procedures, inspection lists and so on.

Step 2- Custom Data Base/ Online Portal Development

- Once we have a grasp on your training needs, the next step is to develop the backend of the program. This includes a custom training data base, employee training and administrator portals, and the necessary reporting functions.

Step 3- Media Collection:

- To develop the most specific training programs we recommend using photos and videos of your employees and processes. Safety Links can take videos of these procedures including basic capturing and digital editing.

Step 4- Assembling the Courses:

- Lastly, we will format company specific presentation material, develop and insert quizzes, format animations, and so on.

Benefits of this service:

- When the program is complete you will own a customized e-learning program. There are no per-person training fees involved!
- This program will allow for the presentation of an unlimited number of training presentations using various media tools including slide shows, videos, audio, narration, animations and interactive quizzes.
- The training material and e-learning portal are completely customized for your needs.

Service scope and price schedule:

- The pricing for this service is heavily dependant upon your needs, the number of courses you need developed and the amount of custom programming required.
- It would be our pleasure to provide you with a detailed quote based on your specific needs
